

HALO

Sorry.

Kick.

GINA

Right above my knee.

Kick.

Kick.

GINA (CONT'D)

Kick through.

A nice hard kick.

HALO pauses to rub some feeling back into her leg.

GINA (CONT'D)

Good, but you're dropping your left. And if you say sorry again, you're doing a hundred crunches.

HALO almost replies "Sorry."

GINA (CONT'D)

Take a second. Walk it off.

HALO

I'm having gym class flashbacks.
"Walk it off, Preston. Don't be such a pussy."

GINA

Yeah, Mr. Loche was a douchebag.

HALO stops and stares at her

GINA (CONT'D)

You know we went to high school together, right?

HALO

No.

GINA

Yeah.

HALO
Aaronsville?

GINA
Yeah. Go Hawks.

HALO
I was 2004

GINA
I know. I was 2005. I mean, I was supposed to be 2005.
Car accident my junior year.

HALO
Huh...Was it that thing that happened right outside the school? Where 273 meets--what is that street? Razorback?

GINA
Yeah. Guy ran a stop sign and T-boned me.

HALO
I remember being in class and hearing that happen.

GINA nods.

GINA
Yeah, it was pretty bad.

HALO
I still don't remember you, though.

GINA
No big deal.

HALO
It's not like it was a big school.

GINA
I looked a lot different.

HALO
Different how?

GINA
Like a hundred pounds different.

HALO

Wow.
Good for you. Was it because of training?

GINA

No, it was mostly the oxy.

HALO gives another of those "what the fuck" stares.

GINA (CONT'D)

Accident messed up my back. They prescribed oxy. I liked it a little too much. About five years too much.

HALO

I'm sorry. I had no idea.

GINA

That's all right. I don't usually wear my Recovering Opioid Fiend T-Shirt.

HALO

Right.

GINA

Come on. Back to work.

GINA lifts the pad on the other side.

HALO

That's really cool, though. That you went from that to where you are now. That must have been really hard.

GINA tries to choose between a simple "Thank you" and telling her a little about just how hard it was. Instead they end up saying...

GINA

Yeah. It was.

But that is not important. What's important is that you can throw a kick without apologizing for it.

GINA lifts the pad on the other side.

HALO kicks.
